The above named student has applied for admission to our Engineering Program for next September. The program requires a good work ethic, the ability to work in a collaborative setting with other students, mathematical skills, and the ability to handle a rigorous academic program, which includes another science course, in addition to the engineering.

We would appreciate a very brief candid assessment of the student’s ability to be a part of this program. Do you have any reservations about this student? If so what are they? Please attach additional sheets as necessary.
